

Tassjania Lozano
Rural Loan Officer
PeopleFund

As rural loan officer, Tass supports access to capital for entrepreneurs in small communities across Texas. She works with strategic partners across the state to ensure that small businesses outside of city limits have access to capital, education, and tools for success. Tass recently transitioned from managing PeopleFund's Women's Business Assistance Center and overseeing women's programming throughout the state. With a passion for social and economic justice and experience in program development, Tass equips entrepreneurs with the tools to succeed. With her support, PeopleFund clients create jobs, provide valuable community services, and gain national attention – including invitations to speak at the White House. In her spare time, she volunteers with homeless shelters, loves to take spontaneous road trips, and visit local art exhibits and museums. Tass enjoys getting her hands dirty, equipping people to be successful, and seeing small businesses grow.
