

Pablo F. Valle, MSc.
METRO Program Manager
Planning Engineering, Construction

Pablo F. Valle is a Program Manager in the Planning, Engineering, and Construction Department at The Metropolitan Transit Authority of Harris County. He manages diverse transportation engineering projects ranging from between $500,000 to $25 million in various engineering areas for the Houston metropolitan region.

Pablo is also an entrepreneur at heart. He is the Founder and President of Small Business Connexion, a Professional Business Organization helping businesses Learn, Grow, and Connect.

He has served in numerous leadership roles including; Treasurer and President of the American Society of Civil Engineers – Student Chapter, Board Member of the Chamber of Latino Entrepreneurs, President, Membership Co-Chair, and Secretary/Treasurer of the Texas Institute of Transportation Engineers Houston District.

Pablo received his Bachelor of Engineering from the City College of New York and his Master's degrees in Civil Engineering from The City University of New York – Graduate Center.

He is a graduate of The Metropolitan Transit Authority of Harris County first Leadership Program. Pablo is the recipient of numerous awards including; The Minority Research Careers for Minority Scholar, the Hispanic Serving Institute Scholarship, and the City College of New York President's award for outstanding leadership.